Department of Computer Science

Alumni Meet organized by Department of Computer Science on 9 March 2023. Our college Principal Dr. Narinder Singh welcomed all the Alumni. Alumni, the collective term for former students of an educational institution, form a vital connection between the past, present, and future of their alma mater. They are the living legacy of the institution, carrying its values and traditions into the world. Alumni associations serve as platforms for these former students to reconnect, network, and give back to their alma mater. These associations foster a sense of community among alumni, offering opportunities for social interaction, professional networking, and mentorship. Through reunions, conferences, and online forums, alumni can reminisce about their college days, share experiences, and build lasting friendships. Moreover, alumni associations often provide career guidance and job placement services, helping their members advance in their professional lives.

The alumni are an indispensable asset to any educational institution. They are the living embodiment of the institution's mission and values, and their continued engagement is essential for its long-term success. By fostering a strong alumni network, institutions can create a powerful force for positive change, both within the campus community and beyond.
